

The Oath and the Office:

A GUIDE TO THE CONSTITUTION FOR FUTURE PRESIDENTS

Wednesday, April 18, 2018

3:30 pm | 720 Corbett Family Hall

event is free and open to the public

COREY BRETTSCHEIDER
PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE
BROWN UNIVERSITY

Corey Brettschneider is Professor of Political Science and Public Policy at Brown University, where he teaches courses in political theory and public law. He received a PhD in Politics from Princeton University and a JD from Stanford University.

His books include: When the State Speaks, What Should It Say? (Princeton University Press, 2012), Democratic Rights: The Substance of Self-Government (Princeton University Press, 2010), and The Oath and the Office: A Guide to the Constitution for Future Presidents (forthcoming).

Presented by: the Constitutional Studies Program
University Merit Scholarship Programs and the Hesburgh-Yusko Scholars Program